Respected Sir,

I am hardworking student seeking employment in your respective team. I have experience building scalable and modular application using JavaScript library and tools.

During my bachelor in information technology, I learnt Logic building using Object oriented programming and algorithm development using Data structure. Since then I have become obsessed with coding. Learning new frameworks and libraries; knowing them how it actually works and what logic it follows amazed me the most. I have a strong understanding of Object oriented programming concept using JavaScript, MVC architecture, REST, GitHub and test driven development.

As a person, I am extremely self-aware, discipline, motivated and extrovert who gains energy from simple conversation.

As a candidate, I possess the skills necessary to make meaningful contribution upon joining a team.

Thank you for considering my application and I look forward to hearing from you.

Best regards,

H. g. Lukhi
